2011 ISM International Supply Management Conference Update

From the Desk of Ron Carpenter, Host Services Committee (HSC) Chair

In my last article I gave you an overview of the last two (2) years preparing for the 2011 ISM International Conference at the Gaylord Palms. Well, the Conference has now come and gone now!

Having worked on the Orlando 2011 International Conference, I thought this conference would be much easier having also attended conferences in San Francisco, New Orleans and Charlotte. Boy was I in for a surprise, as in today's world the only thing consistent is change. Just when you think you have everything figured out...Bang! A new challenge comes up.

In 2011 we used easels with printed announcements, and now use digital monitors for each session and also run interviews with Conference participants during the breaks. It makes it so much easier if there are changes to the sessions. Nextel phones are used to maintain communication between the HSC Committee and ISM Headquarters Staff instead of the old way of running around trying to find someone to tell about getting an issue corrected. All sessions are now scanned to get better understanding of what sessions get the best response for future Conferences.

On Thursday May 12, Bette Hallmark and myself spent several hours at the Gaylord checking things out and planning for a long Friday, May 13, of setting up the rooms that we were responsible for as well as the Orlando Hospitality Booth.

Talk about a fast paced five and a half days. The HSC Committee was busy from 6:00 a.m. until 10:00 p.m., Friday through Wednesday and 6:00 a.m. until noon on Wednesday. ISM registration started Saturday morning at 7:00 a.m. Volunteers for hall monitors and session monitors started arriving at 6:45 a.m. keeping Bette and her team busy throughout the day.

The conference was great with lots of networking, renewing of past relationships and meeting people from all over the world.

If you did not attend this year's Conference as a volunteer or attendee, you missed out on the nine (9) Learning Tracks and over 100 sessions:

- Track 1 - Best Practices in Supply Management
- Track 2 - Developing & Leading Impactful Supply Chain Organizations
- Track 3 - Headwinds
- Track 4 - Logistics
- Track 5 - Manufacturing
- Track 6 - Risk Management
- Track 7 - Services Procurement
- Track 8 - Supplier Development & Relationship Management
- Track 9 - Talent Management

The Keynote Speakers were fantastic and included:

Sidney Johnson, CPSM; Vice President, Global Supply Management; Delphi Corporation
Daniel Burrus; Technology Futurist & Business Strategist
Arianna Huffington; Co-founder & Editor-In-Chief; The Huffington Post

The Exhibit Hall had new hours this year and we heard only good comments from the attendees while they were visiting with the suppliers collecting hand outs, having dessert and renewing past relationships, as many of the suppliers have attended many conferences in the past.

After the conference closed on Wednesday, some of the HSC Committee met with ISM Headquarters Staff for a debriefing of the conference, discussions and planning for the 2012 Baltimore International Conference.

As the Chair I had made the selection of members to be on the committee to help with organizing all the duties that needed to be performed during the Conference. My selections were as follows:

- Ed Wainwright – Programs
- Bette Hallmark – Services
- Theodora (Teddi) McCorkle – Co-Services
- David Billingsley – Public Relations
- John Morris – Finance

What a GREAT group to work with and I want to thank them for their hard work and long hours. Without them, I could not have done my job.

I also want to thank the Orlando Hospitality Booth Team for staffing the booth, the long hours and helping all of the attendees who stopped by the booth looking for restaurants, parks and asking assorted questions. And there were many!

I want to thank all the local ISM-CF volunteers for their effects and being willing to volunteer and work unplanned hours to help keep the conference going.

I sincerely hope that all of you can attend next year's Baltimore Conference May 6, 2012 through May 9, 2012 either as a volunteer or attendee.

Hope to see you there.

ISM Certification Updates by Ed Wainwright, M.A., C.P.M., A.P.P.

While attending the CPSM train the Trainer class I received some information about updates to the various Certification Programs. The change I noticed the most was the extension from 3 to 4 years for the valid CPSM test scores.

A.P.P. Program, is in a recertification only mode [every 5 years 42 CEH (Continuing Education Hours)], or Lifetime A.P.P. for 18+ years of professional supply management experience (can be secondary to a primary function). There are currently 2,833 A.P.P.'s in 19 countries.

C.P.M. Program – is transitioning into re-certification only. To re-certification every 5 years one needs to show 82 CEH. Lifetime C.P.M. – 18+ years of full time professional supply management experience. The deadline for C.P.M. Applications is December 31, 2013. (for individuals who have passed all 4 exams)

The deadline for current C.P.M.s to register for the Bridge Exam December 31, 2014, and all exams must be taken by December 31, 2015.

CPSM Program –

Requirements:

Pass the required exam(s) (Bridge exam or CPSM exams 1, 2, & 3)

A minimum of three years of full time professional supply management experience

Bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university (or the international equivalent)

Exam Scores are valid for four years (changed from 3 years retroactive). Re-certification every 3 years with 60 CEH, there is no provision for a lifetime CPSM., Currently there are 3,022 CPSM certificate holders in 33 countries.

CPSD Program –

Requirements :

Pass the required exams (CPSM exam 1, CPSD exam)

A minimum of five years of professional (non-clerical, non-support) supply management or supplier diversity experience (does not need to be the primary responsibility), or three years of professional (non-clerical, non-support) supply management or supplier diversity experience if the candidate has a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university (or the international equivalent)

Re-certification every 3 years with 60 CEH, Currently there are 105 CPSD certificate holders in 2 countries.

Member Spotlight

In each newsletter, we will be “spotlighting” a member. Our spotlight now shines on Ron Carpenter. Enjoy and hopefully you will learn something new about Ron.

Name and Nickname: Ronald (Ron) L. Carpenter

Place of employment and title, and/or past employment/experiences:

I graduated June 1961 from Colonial High School in Orlando. I was in the US Navy from February 1962 to June 1966 with Long Beach, CA as my home port. I made two trips to Vietnam on the destroyer USS Samuel N. Moore DD747.

After the Navy, I worked for various commercial and aerospace companies in the procurement field. In September 1991 I returned to Orlando and was hired as a temp at Martin Marietta (now Lockheed Martin) in December 1991. Lockheed hired me as a permanent employee in August 1994. I retired in January 2008 as a Senior Procurement Staff in the IT Group. In September 2008, Lockheed contacted me for a six month special project and I am still here after 2 1/2 years. Not complaining! I only work part time 27 to 32 hours a week so I am able to take time off to do things I want to do, such as the International Conference.

Activity in Organizations/ISM: I have been an ISM member in California, New York and Florida for 28 years. I joined the Orlando Affiliate in 1994 and I have been on the ISM-CF Board for over 8 years as Director of Public Relations (2 years), Vice President (1 year), President (4 years) and Treasurer (1 year). I participated in the 2001 International Conference in Orlando. I was the ISM-CF winner for an all expense paid 2002 International Conference to San Francisco. I have attended International Conferences and Workshops in Orlando, San Francisco, Las Vegas, New Orleans, Raleigh and Charlotte. Most recently, I was Host Service Committee Chair for the 2011 International Conference in Orlando.

Hobbies/Interests: Reading, concerts and ice shows.

Tell us something about yourself that no one else may know about you: I have 4 children (2 boys and 2 girls), 8 grandchildren (2 boys and 6 girls) and 1 great grandchild (girl).
